SIEGE GUNS PLACED

On the Hills Surrounding Fort Arthur's Forts

ATTACKED SINCE SATURDAY

The Japanese Investing Forces Are Occupying a Crescent Shaped Position About the City

Tokio, June 8.—10:30 a.m.—Four Japanese gunboats, which made a close reconnaissance of Fort Arthur harbor at midnight on June 6th for the purpose of examining the entrance, were exposed to a severe cannonade. Gunboat No. 4 was hit eight times and sustained some damage. One of her sailors was killed and two others were wounded.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—The Admiralty is convinced that either the battleship Yoshima or the battleship Shikishima has been lost off Tallien Wan.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—Emperor Nicholas has received the following dispatch from Viceroy Alexieff:

"According to the report of Rear Admiral Wittsoff on the battle of Kin Chou, our right flank was strongly supported by the gunboat Boir, and the torpedo boats Rural and Boiki which afterwards returned to Port Arthur.

"On the night of May 26th, ten torpedo boats were sent out against the Japanese boats operating in Kin Chou Bay. One of the torpedo boats struck the rocks and sank. Her crew were saved. The casualties among those serving the naval guns were, Sub-Lieut. Shiniavobovskiy missing and six sailors wounded.

Chefoo, June 9.—It is conceded that attacks of varying strength have been made from land and sea by the Japanese on the outer defences of Port Arthur for the past two days and though none have been pushed to conclusion, they are progressing persistently. Field artillery was used today in bombarding the Russian breastwork between Tung Kiamhou approaches to Wedgehead and simultaneously several Japanese gunboats fired on the Russian position along the shore of Tallien Wan Bay. At no time did the Japanese attack in force, the fire apparently being designed mainly to draw a reply from the enemy.

Kin Chou, June 9.—The fall of Port Arthur is imminent, an attack by land and sea having been in progress since Saturday. Japanese siege guns have been placed on the heights around the Russian forts and the Japanese troops occupy a semi-circle of attack 24 miles long.

Shanghai, June 9.—A Russian brigade under Gen. Stackelberg, which was marching southward in the direction of Port Arthur, suffered a reverse in an engagement near Watungting and retired to Tashiehiao.

Liao Yang, June 9.—The Japanese on June 6th, according to Chinese reports, made several sustained stubborn attacks on Port Arthur simultaneously by land and sea, but were repulsed with severe losses. The position of the Japanese in Kwang Tung is precarious. Rumors from the same sources say the Vladivostok squadron attacked a junction with the Port Arthur fleet and a naval battle took place and the Japanese lost four large ships.

"THE CROSSING"

588 pages, seven colored illustrations cloth only $12.50.

The author puts into a picturesque story of the peaceful conquest of the great Louisiana territory the whole American spirit of a very critical period. It was during the years covered by this vigorous novel that the country proved the depth and value of the "Louisiana Purchase" during the times of which "Richard Carvel" gave so convincing a picture.

The first chapters open with the days when the Carolinas were upon the frontier, and Andy Jackson was a red-haired boy, led by the schoolmaster for fighting. They carry the hero, young Davy, over the Cumberland Mountains, to share the adventures of the famous leader and Indian fighter, George Rogers Clark.

SUPPLIES FOR NORTHERN MISSIONARIES

Toronto Globe: A distressing accident has befallen the missionaries laboring in the far northerly diocese of Mackenzie River.

The supplies for these workers are purchased once a year and forwarded to the different stations through the Hudson's Bay Company. These supplies for the coming year had been purchased by the missionaries, and were being forwarded through the company when the late disastrous floods took place. The storehouses of the Hudson's Bay Company at Athabasca Landing were entirely flooded, and nearly all the year's supplies for the missionaries totally ruined. The missionary workers themselves will have to bear the entire cost which this disaster has entailed, as the Hudson's Bay Company were only acting as forwarding agents and were not responsible for the goods. The Right Rev. Dr. Reeve, Bishop of Mackenzie River, happened to arrive shortly after the floods took place, and has had additional supplies of absolute necessities, food and provisions, purchased for the different mission stations and forwarded, so that they might not perish during next winter, but the money needed to pay for these provisions, will have, of course, to be supplied by friends of missions, as the workers themselves will now have no means of providing for them. Acting on behalf of his Lordship the Bishop of Mackenzie River, and this faithful band of laborers, his commissary, Rev. T. R. O'Meara, is making an appeal for contributions. The chief sufferers through this sad loss are the Ven. Archdeacon McDonald; Mr. Hardisty, a native catechist; the Rev. J. R. Lucas, the Rev. A. J. Warwick and the Rev. Thomas Marsh and his party at the Hay River Mission. The Bishop estimates that it will need at least $5,000 to pay for these additional necessities of life which have been forwarded to the missionaries. Contributions of money should be forwarded to Mr. George Gressdale, Synod office, Winnipeg, Man.

Expansion and Union

The Presbyterian general assembly of Canada opened at St. John, N.E., on June 1st, when the retiring moderator, Rev. Dr. Fletcher, preached from Philippians iii, 13, the subject being: "Advancing in Christ's Work." He dwelt first on our thoughts, Paul's purpose, Christlikeness. Second, on the method of pursuing this by forgetting the past and pressing ahead. Third, prayer essential to advancement; and fourth, let the church advance. Dr. Fletcher said that God in His providence had greatly honored them as a church by giving them a vast home mission field to care for and cultivate. No church of its size has such a vast home mission field. "We have a continent to supply with religious ordinances. Besides the work in the Maritime provinces, there is in connection with the western section of this church 488 mission fields, with 1,314 preaching stations. The vast mission fields of the church are to the west of Lake Superior. In this district we have 312 mission fields, with 864 stations. In 1881, the population of Manitoba and the Northwest Territories was 87,775. In 1901 it was 413,237, and the immigration during the last two years has far exceeded that of any previous year, about 250,000 having come into the country in that period, and nearly 87,000 immigrants have arrived during the first four months of this year. Owing to the rapidly increasing population of the western part of the Dominion through immigration from many lands, this home mission work will continue to grow and increase for years to come.

The interest manifested in this work by our people is clearly shown in the large increase of revenue. In the western section of the church for home mission and augmentation combined, less than $25,000 was contributed the first year after the union; last year it exceeded $140,000. There is every reason to believe the tide of revenue will yet rise as the demands for this work increase. Gratitude for success already achieved should stimulate our church to increased efforts in home mission work. Whether the millions yet to be in these vast western regions shall be a God-fearing and law-abiding nation, loving righteousness and maintaining the principles of Christian civilization, or a nation that shall surrender itself to the forces that make for weakness, misery and decay, depends largely on the attitude of the Christian church towards this work. May the Lord awaken his people to an intelligent sense of their duty and opportunity at this period of national expansion, and lead them to put forth their best efforts to give the gospel to the multitudes that come within our border from many lands. United action in this work is promised by the contemplated union of our church with the Methodist and Congregational. May this union feeling grow and issue in good."

The Carnage at Kin Chow

The Times correspondent sends the following despatch from Wei Hai Wei: I have just returned from a cruise on the Times steamer Haiman off Kin Chow Bay, and have been able to glean some further particulars of the engrossing operations on the Liao Tung peninsula. Eye witnesses say that on (midday of the 26th) the Kin Chow lethum presented an unprecedented military spectacle, with 40,000 Japanese troops massed behind the western spur of Mount Sampson, and under such small cover as was afforded by the Suchiatun twin peaks. While within 2,000 yards of the Russian works there was so little room to deploy for attack that battalions of Japanese infantry had to stand waiting in the sea the whole time. It was a veritable inferno of all arms, and shells from the Russian batteries ploughed into the serried masses around Kin Chow, the Japanese guns replying as battery after battery came into action from the Chihchewang and Kauchayan flats, while a sustained fire from the gunboats kept the line of the Russian works fringed with bursting projectiles.

About midday, when the energy of the Russian defenders in the works in front of Mauchlaying village seemed to be exhausted by the gunboat fire which had driven the gunners from their pieces, two Japanese battalions appeared over the saddle between the twin peaks. They were to make a desperate effort to carry the nearest Russian works. At first the straggling walls of Mauchlaying gave them some cover, under which they had a moment's breathing space. Then the gallant little infantrymen pressed on again up the breast of the slopes of the Russian position. It was an impossible task, as the defenders were not yet sufficiently shaken. An avalanche of concentrated fire from the infantry in the trenches, machine guns in the Russian works, and the quick-firing field artillery supporting the defenses, struck the Japanese. They melted away from the glacis like solder before a blow flame. A few who seemed to have charmed lives struggled on till they reached the wire entanglements. It was a vain, if heroic, effort, for within fifteen minutes these two battalions had ceased to exist except as a trail of mutilated bodies at the foot of the Russian glacis.

Seeing the failure of this attack, the gunboats and supporting artillery concentrated their whole fire upon one point, where General Olu was determined to drive home his wedge, and by evening the works were practicable for a General who had such infantry as the Japanese, and was prepared to take the responsibility for such fearful losses. It would seem as if the actual carrying of the works had been another Alma. One work gave way after waiting for the bayonet attack, and then the whole of the Russian works went over to the side of the Japanese, the Russians retiring before them.

Reference has been made to the mining ship Arthur. It was also who laid the mines that destroyed the battleship Hatsue. On the very morning of the catastrophe the Japanese gunboat flotilla cut her and her escort of torpedo boats off, and they made their way into Tallenwan Bay. I can learn nothing of their fate here. If, as I suspect, they slipped back to Port Arthur, then we know that the channel remains open to ships of that draught. I have gathered the following information from refugees from Port Arthur: All available foodstuffs have been requisitioned by the military authorities. The native and civilian population have to do the best with what comes by junk from China and what they themselves have secreted. It is estimated that on half rations the garrison has five months' foodstuffs. The refugees report that five damaged warships have been moored to the jetties, everything movable having been removed from them. General Stoessel retains a large number of junks in the roadstead. The object of this measure can only be conjectured.

Found His Body

Ottawa Review: While working about the saw mill on Monday last Mr. Lancaster, an employee discovered the body of the late Walter Stewart floating on the surface of the water among the logs and timbers. The distance from Brown's ford to the mill is about 12 miles, and the body was carried down by the stream all that distance. When found the corpse was in a sad state of decomposition and badly swollen, but was identified immediately as that of Walter Stewart, and the remains were taken to the home of Morris Stewart where the deceased made his home previous to his death. The funeral took place on Tuesday at the Davidsburg cemetery and was largely attended by sympathizing friends and neighbors. The firm of Shaver & Graham, undertakers, of Calgary had charge of the body.

EDIFICATION OF THE TEMPLE.
The first session of the Grand Lodge was held in the hall last evening, presided over by the Grand Master, when the new building was formally dedicated for the use of the Order. There were about two hundred members present, including many visitors from the local lodges.

During the evening a very pleasing event took place in the form of a presentation to Mr. J. Dunlop by the members of the local lodge, Winnipeg, some twenty-five years ago Mr. Dunlop was one of the charter members of the lodge, delecting from the lodge when he came to Edmonton. He joined the existing lodge here and when Jasper lodge was formed was one of the charter members and also the first Grand Master. On the completion of his term of office the members of Jasper lodge presented him with a past master's jewel. The members of the local lodge, wishing to honor their charter members and finding that Mr. Dunlop already had a jewel, resorted to strategy to accomplish the pleasing task. The jewel was secured by some means and forwarded to Winnipeg, where a handsome diamond was set in it and another bar added. Last evening the members of the local lodge presented Mr. Dunlop with his own jewel, with the added tokens of their regard.

Judge Myers of Minnesota, was also made the recipient of the past master's jewel.

The lodge reassembled this morning at ten o'clock, sitting until noon. The afternoon session began at two o'clock. The new officers are to be elected this afternoon.

LETTER OF WELCOME.
The following letter of welcome from the town will be presented at this afternoon's session:

To the Most Worshipful, the Grand Master, and Officers and Members of the Grand Lodge of Manitoba, A. F. & A. M.:

The Council of the Town of Edmonton take great pleasure in welcoming you to Edmonton, not only as representatives of Masonry, but also as representatives of every honorable station in life, and of every laudable enterprise which is working for the welfare of our common land.

We are honoured in that you have chosen our town as your place of meeting at this time, being as it does somewhat apart from the ordinary avenues of transportation. We trust that you will have a pleasant visit here, and we wish you every success in your appointed duties.

Signed on behalf of the Mayor and Council.

W.M. SHORT, Mayor.
GEO. J. KINKAID, Secy-Treasurer.

THE BALL TO-NIGHT.
Elaborate preparations have been made for the grand concert and ball to-night in the skating rink. The rink has been specially floored with hard wood and most tastefully decorated for the occasion. Streamers of the national colors hang from the centre of the large arches to the sides of the building, while from the centre of each arch hangs a large British flag. A raised platform has been arranged for the orchestra in the centre of the hall. The walls have been suitably decorated with overgreens and flags and when the large staff of men at work to-day have completed their labors the hall room will be the finest ever seen in Edmonton and one of the most attractive ever arranged in the West.

A FAR-SIGHTED WESTERNER

A Toronto Globe dispatch from St. John, N.B., says: Rev. D. G. McQueen, for seventeen years minister at Edmonton, a sturdy hero, who has seen his original field grow into a presbytery with 38 charges, and made ready for two presbyteries, said: "There has been growth in Saskatchewan ever since 1896. Some say the coming in of the Liberal government was the cause of it. Greater growth is before us. The C.P.R. is in now. The Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific are coming. We want them. Every man in that country wants all three."

Results that we may have a living race in transportation. I care not what they say at Ottawa, there is room and need for the Grand Trunk Pacific. Thirty years hence half the population of Canada and the controlling political influence will be west of Lake Superior."

BUDGET DEBATE

The Pros and Cons of the Dominion's Finance. No Reference to Proposed Tariff Changes

Bulletin Special Dispatch.

Ottawa, Ont., June 8.—The budget debate was continued today. Ball of Etou, followed Fielding last night. Cartwright upheld the government side of the argument in a clever speech. Pope followed attacking Cartwright personally but not touching the tariff arguments. Heyde, protectionist Liberal, of Brantford, followed.

Hon. R. L. Borden shows no inclination to enter the debate. So far no new line of argument has been developed. On the government side Cartwright did not allude to the tariff change directly, but warned the Liberal party against the fate of Samson from listening to Delilah, the allusion being to the demand made for tariff increases by professed friends.

NO FROST AT EDMONTON

The probabilities received at the telegraph office here yesterday from the meteorological department began with the statement, "Frost occurred this morning in northern Alberta."

The question now is, Where did this report originate? There is only one meteorological station in Northern Alberta sending daily reports to the department, that at Edmonton. As published in yesterday's Bulletin, the minimum temperature recorded at the station here from noon on Tuesday until noon yesterday was 37 degrees, or 5 degrees above frost. As the code provides for even numbers only, the report sent to the department yesterday for the minimum temperature was 38 degrees, or 4 degrees above freezing. Noting the probe issued by the department, Mr. H. S. Young, of the meteorological station here sent a special telegram yesterday denying the report and giving the correct figures recorded.

A YOUTHFUL RUSTLER

The daily "Ice up" in front of the post office had a quiet laugh an evening or so ago over the capture of a youthful plunderer and the forfeiture of his spoil. The young lad, a foreigner, came out of Mr. Berg's confectionery store and started east with a double handed cargo of all day suckers. He proceeded leisurely, apparently thinking unconcerned the benevolent innocence. But he was mistaken, and the proprietor overtook him at Williamson's butcher shop. The delinquent was brought back to the scene of his depredations, the loot repleveled and an application of old fashioned justice administered. Then the disgruntled rustler departed, vowing his humiliation in broken Saxon between the sofa.

BUILDING OPERATIONS

The fine weather is being fully utilized by the builders in town. While the bulk of the work done thus far has been on the large blocks in course of erection on main street, and on extensions to already existing buildings, a large number of residences have lately been commenced and are now in course of erection. The portion of the Hudson's Bay reserve lying north of Jasper avenue promises to uphold during the present season the record established last year. Five new houses are now in course of erection on 5th street alone on that section of the north of Jasper avenue. In the living north of Jasper avenue, the new portions of the town houses are also going up in large numbers, the majority of them being of a substantial and permanent nature.

National Power

Minneapolis Tribune.

The deepest secret of the marvelous superiority of the Japanese over the Russians lies in the nature and temper of the two peoples as displayed in the attitude of both toward their country and its government. Two contrasted pictures reveal the attitude of the two peoples toward their country. The Japanese conscript holds his pink slip as a guardian of honor and runs to his station like a bridegroom to the altar. Russian conscripts refuse to move and have to be loaded in cars like logs. Japanese teachers kill themselves to remove the legal exemption from service of dependent persons from their sons. Russian women throw themselves on the track before cars loaded with their men drawn for service to prevent their going to war and are crushed and mutilated when the train moves.

All Japan from 'ricksha bearer to daimio, is welded together in a fervent and unreflecting loyalty to the sovereign and government that sinks the unity of individuals in the solidarity of forty millions with one thought and capable of being trained for one act. The czar's relatives plot against his throne, his subjects conceal him, his generals disobey him, his servants rob him, his people risk their lives to get out of the country rather than serve in his armies.

This is the fatal difference that lies under all the superficial differences of military and naval preparation, capacity and skill. This explains why Russian admirals dance at balls and generals quarrel over precedence, while the Japanese are sinking their ships and driving back their armies. It contains the whole secret of complete preparation for war and high efficiency in it on one side and helpless incapacity under cover of impudent boasting on the other. It is the one sufficient reason why a nation of 100,000,000 people slauger helplessly before one of 40,000,000 with a nervous little hand clutching its bravery throat. Victory is not to the big but to the resolute. The battle is not to the strong, but to the skilful. And the training that breeds skill is possible only to a devoted and united people.

—Regina Standard: During the short stay of the coast freight at the station yesterday the attention of a small number was drawn to two half blood buffalo cows, which were en route to the National Park at Banff. These interesting creatures also shared the blood of the Polled Angus, and curiously enough were much larger than either the original buffalo cow or their domestic parent. The car also contained a few Persian sheep, which were to be added to the collection at the rocky mountain health resort. The outfit of animals was brought from Lindsay, Ont., by Mr. D. C. Bay, of Banff.

SPORTS

The fine weather last evening drew out the local sports for practices on the Hudson's Bay grounds.

There was a fair turn-out of baseball men and a good batting practice was put on.

The lacrosse men were out in force and had a lively drill.

On the market square the fire brigade football team had a full practice, the members turning out in good strength.

THE DOG NUISANCE

Letters from a couple of belated dog owners who had delayed the payment of taxes on their canine friends precipitated a general though brief discussion of the dog question at Tuesday evening's council meeting. The writers claimed that the notice in the press should have said plainly that double taxes would be charged after June 1st.

While the council were disposed as individuals to sympathize with newcomers who did not understand the workings of the law, it was felt that it would be a mistake to violate the existing by-law. The matter was complicated, and this attitude, made almost unavoidable by the fact that since June 1st several parties had already paid the double rate required by the by-law. Solicitor Deak pointed out that the by-law has been in force here for many years and should be pretty generally known, especially by those who have resided in town for a length of time.

Secretary Treasurer Kinnaird said the course for dog owners to pursue on seeing the notice regarding the duty for the payment of the taxes, was to call at the town offices, where the matter would have been explained to them. The notice read that failure to pay the tax by June 1st was an infringement of the by-law and it was the part of those affected to ascertain what this meant. Mayor Short said the intention of the law was to abolish the homeless curs which were a nuisance about town. The duty of the police was to round up dogs on which taxes had not been paid and to have these destroyed. Last year about fifty surplus dogs were disposed of in this manner. A pound for the purpose was kept at the nuisance ground.

Committees have been formed to canvass the town for provisions to be served during fair days. These committees are requested to report at the special meeting to be held in the All Saint's schoolroom on Monday, June 27th, at 3 p.m.
Donations of provisions from the courts will be very gratefully received. These may be left at the home of Mrs. Braithwaite or of Mrs. Fred Ross before or during the fair days.
